

CHONG'S ALL-CHINESE FALL BEFORE TIGERS

TIN CHONGERS GAMEDLY FACE CRACKERJACKS FROM MAINLAND AND DESPITE MANY HANDICAPS PLAY FIRST CLASS ARTICLE OF BASEBALL

(From Monday Advertiser.)

Tigers 4, All-Chinese 1

Before the greatest gathering of baseball in the history of Honolulu the Venice Tigers scored over the W. Tin Chong All-Chinese ball team yesterday afternoon at Athletic Park with four runs to one.

As a baseball game it was a real exhibition of the national pastime, and having a few minutes, both teams put up as fine an article of the game as the most exacting fan would care to see.

Contrary to rumors, W. Tin Chong lined his men up in true style, every member of the team being on hand, ready and willing to play under the terms of his contract, with a true spirit of sportsmanship. The team as a whole is to be congratulated on the stand they took for clean baseball. Lang Akana was back in the fold, and no man in either team played harder or with better ability than did the big fellow. He was a much improved ball player, too, over his first appearance against the mainlanders, and yesterday faced both Jim Scott and Ed Klepper with far more confidence than he did Claude Williams the day before.

Working for the hometown Chinese was Luck Yee in the box and Kan Yin behind the bat. Had Luck Yee placed more confidence in his teammates and been a bit more steady, the score would have been smaller by far. One, though, must not fault with the All-Chinese pitcher. It was the first time in his career that he had been called on to battle against the cream of the Coast League and real big stars of the American League, and all this considered his work was excellent.

Showing his worth as a catcher was Kan Yin, and the sturdy little backstop of the local team did himself proud as a receiver, while his some big league bases made the Tigers respect him when it came to pilfering the sacks. As for the rest of the boys, every one of them tried from start to finish, and the Chinese community can well be proud of their real representatives on the ballfield.

Was Big League Stuff

Sitting in the press box was Armand Heenan of New York, and major league baseball is due up to him every day. Asked his opinion of yesterday's game, Mr. Heenan said he was greatly surprised at the adeptness of the All-Chinese team.

"And I am further surprised at the way the game was run. Snappy and fast all the way through, and I shall surely tell my friends over on the mainland that I witnessed some big league stuff in the game of baseball here in Honolulu. I can also tell my friends that this game was played in November under clear skies, with the exception of one or two rainfalls, when a slight shower of rain fell."

This was only in keeping with the promises of the promoter of the Venice series and the many interesting novel introduced during the game, and the manner in which the umpires worked and the players gingered up the game made it well worth the fans being there.

Starting the fun of the day, the Venetians did a twenty-minute stunt of hitting, followed by the All-Chinese, both of which proved decidedly interesting to the enormous crowd.

Following this the All-Chinese pulled off a fast fielding stunt of ten minutes, followed by the Venetians, who wound up their work with an exhibition of shadow baseball, and this made a great hit with the crowd.

Play Fast Baseball

Finally came the going to start the game, and according to official figures 5181 people paid admission to the park. Every one of them saw a fast and well-played game of ball, and the Venice aggregation was voted the cleverest bunch of ball players ever brought into the Territory.

With the Venetians winning the toss, W. Tin Chong's team was sent to the bat by Umpire Jack McCarthy, who had Henry Chillingworth watching the bases and Larry Collins stationed in the outfield as assistants.

Chong's bunch failed to make a flash and the visitors took their turn at bat, and as in the two previous games began scoring in the opening round.

Fitzgerald opened the last half of the first inning by hitting sharply to leftfield and was safe at first. With Rader at the bat Luck Yee faltered, and failing to locate the plate Rader was given a base on balls. Derrick hit into center for a safety, but fast fielding on the part of Hoon Ki kept Justin Fitzgerald at third and Rader at second. Johnny Kane hit sharply into the infield, but a quick throw home by Lai Tin cut off Fitzgerald at the plate. Philadelphia Billy Orr, next to the firing line, pulled a long double to left, scoring Rader and Derrick, Kane going over to third. Reisinger followed with a screamer into left, but Kai Luke made a difficult catch and Kane was doubled at third, ending the inning.

After that Luck Yee pitched good ball and got by without a run being scored up against him until the sixth. Here he wobbled a bit and allowed Kane to have a double into leftfield. On the Lava Trail to laugh by referring to the hit as bouncing over the Lava Trail. Following Kane came Reisinger with a long drive into rightfield into the crowd that might have been a four-bagger, but which under the rules allowed Reisinger but two bases. Kane scored on the hit. Previous to this run being scored the All-Chinese broke into the box column, something the Twenty-fifth and Punahou failed to do, and that run came off the mighty Jim Scott at that.

Ed Klepper, who had started for the Tigers, complained of a sore arm in the final of the fifth, after having allowed but one hit and fanning two men. As Jim Scott was willing to take up the burden, Big Ed stepped down and Big Jim stepped in.

Tin Chong's bunch greeted the Chicago White Sox in a merry manner. Third baseman Yap, opening the round, threw a throw of his hard hit between third and short and was safe at first. Kai Luke followed with a neat sacrifice, advancing Yap to second. Chong bunted safely and went to second when Derrick crossed his legs at first and allowed a low throw to reach the bleachers. Lai Tin hit into leftfield and was out. Lang Akana caught one to his liking, and the result was a safety to left which scored Yap. Kan Yin ended the inning by fanning.

This made things look bright for the Tin Chongers, but the final of the sixth upset the hopes of the Chinese followers.

Jim Scott Hits One

For the time being Jim Scott can smile at Jack Bliss. These two great pals and journeyed around the world as a battery for the Sox last year. In batting, though, each is claiming the championship over the other, and in yesterday's game Jim romped ahead of Jack when he poked one out of the lot and Jack did not get a hit. It happened in the seventh—lucky seventh for the All-Chinese some thought, but it was not so. Jim measured to the plate with the trusty war club in hand, and when Luck Yee fed him a straight one Jim boosted the Spalding out of the lot. The ball went far and high, hitting the roof of the joss house beyond the leftfield fence.

After Jim had walked around the bases he called the attention of Bliss to the mightiness of the hit, but Jack failed to answer.

After that nothing happened worth chronicling, the game ending with the Tigers still in the winning column.

Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, the All-Oahu League picked team will play the Venetians, with Francis Barney pitching for the locals and Jim Scott working for the visitors.

VENICE TIGERS AGAIN WHITEWASH OPPONENTS

CHAMPION PUNAHOU PLAY FAST BALL AGAINST VISITORS
BUT C. WILLIAMS AND REAST OF VENETIANS
ARE MASTERS OF SITUATION

(From Sunday Advertiser.)

Tigers 3, Punahou 0

History repeated at Athletic Park yesterday afternoon and the Tigers won their second game in Hawaii by exactly the same score as in their first appearance, 3 to 0.

As a baseball game it was a revelation to the 3000 fans who crowded into the bleachers and grandstands and the snappy and ginger of the visitors, coupled with the fastness of the game sent every fan on the way home well pleased with the exhibition.

While the Venetians played baseball from the top of the opening going until the last Punahou man flew out to leftfield, the Punahous likewise gave an excellent exhibition of the national game. Unlike the Twenty-fifth Infantry team, the locals were not a bit nervous and tried from start to finish to break through the wonderful in-and-outfield of the Tigers as well as the masterly pitching of Claude Williams.

While the Puns finished on the short end of the score, they can well feel proud of the game they played against the stars from the Coast and American Leagues.

Strong For Baseball

That Honolulu fans are strong for good baseball teams was shown by the attendance and the outpouring of followers of the game was convincing proof that good baseball, played by good teams will bring out the fans.

Everything was so different from what the fans have been seeing for the last six years. Right off the reel both the Punahous and Tigers began snapping the ball around and interesting stunts of the diamond came fast and furious. Big Jim Scott showed the fans why he is a big leaguer by giving an exhibition of pitching to batters in practice that set the fans wild with delight. Then the Tigers pulled off the shadow baseball act and this being something new and novel to the fans supplied a word of pleasure to every one on the lot, fans and players.

Prior to the game, neatly printed cards were distributed free to the fans with the lineup and batting order of each team as was also a neat and attractive score card.

Big Chief Introduces

Another novelty new to Honolulu fans was the introducing of the players of the Venice team as they stepped to the bat by Big Chief Kennedy and a few moments after the game was under way, every fan on the lot knew who was who in the Tigers' batting order.

As a speed burner, the game will go down in the records as being about the fastest thing ever pulled off on a ball field in Hawaii, one hour and twelve minutes being counted in finishing it up. Umpire Jack McCarthy handled the game in his usual faultless style and every player hop-skipped and jumped across the field to and from his position and never once did the game lag.

Pitching for Punahou was Bloddy Williams and Venice hit him a whole lot harder than they did Willis last Thursday at Schofield, getting nine blows in all. Two of these went for doubles while one was a drive out of the lot by Reisinger. Reisinger, him, Punahou, took care of everything sent their way. "Kelly" Henshaw behaved well behind the bat even if he had nothing to do as far as the putouts and assists were concerned. Billy Hoogs also failed to get a chance at third base.

Rader saves a hit

In fielding where the Tigers shone and several snappy plays, catches and throws electrified the crowd. Derrick decided in perfect accord, not a miscue marring the score sheet while several brilliant plays marked Punahou work in the in and outfield.

Lang Shows Speed

Lang Akana grabbed two Jack Bliss drove into leftfield in great style, one of them being a right hand catch up against the leftfield fence. Rader too played brilliant ball at second while Argabrite, O'Brien and Lyman took care of everything sent their way.
